

Welcome

Hello and welcome to this week's news!

This week, the children have continued to work hard and have had several new experiences. At lunchtime, 4 of our children are now independently collecting and eating a hot dinner from the dining room. Although the children have clearly communicated a dislike to the dining room and prefer to eat in the hub, they happily return their trays to the dining room once they have finished. Also at lunchtime, some of the children have been building kind and positive friendships as they play and communicate collaboratively.

In literacy, the children have continued to explore the text 'Supertato'. They have enjoyed sequencing the story, reading and matching sentences to the correct picture, before writing sentences to describe.

In topic, the year 1 children have continued their enjoyment of the 'Supertato' text as they designed and built their own Supertato.

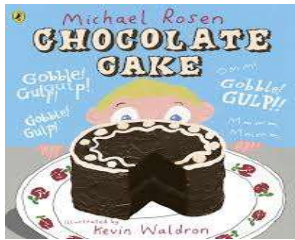

This week, in PSHE the children have been learning about the Zones of regulation and the 'Red Zone.' The children listened carefully to the story 'Feel All My Anger' by Kim T. S. We thought carefully about how our bodies might feel when feeling cross or angry and discussed what we could do to help us calm. We then used balloons to represent the feeling of anger and how to release this feeling as we begin to learn how to self-regulate. During play and learn, Albie and George used the dressing-up box to represent and communicate their thinking.

In Music, this week we welcomed the lovely Emily, our music teacher, to the hub. The children were introduced to singing and signing the Hello and Goodbye song. They also took turns to use the microphone and shakers, shaking to a simple rhythm and beat.

Finally, this week the Hub's children took part in the Hollinswood's National Poetry Day 2025. Together, we share several funny poems and thought carefully about the words that rhyme. The children particularly enjoyed Chocolate Cake by Micheal Rosen. They found the faces Micheal pulled and the noises he made when reading his poem very funny! We then made a version of our own chocolate cake.

Reminders-

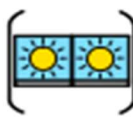

- Please bring reading books and diaries into school daily.
- P.E is on a Tuesday. Children to wear their P.E kit into school.
- Children will need a set of waterproofs and wellies to remain in school for our outside learning.

 Thank you for all your hard work!

 Have a fabulous weekend!
