Hedgehog's Newsletter

We had had a wonderful week completing lots of activities within our Enrichment offer. This week we have focused on Black History Month. Children have been part of a larger group activity within the hall where a lady visited us and brought with her African musical instruments, clothing, teddy animals and pictures and patterns to colour. The Hedgehog's children were amazing!

Other activities this week have included listening to music by black artists including Micheal Jackson, will.i.am and Whitney Huston as well as more traditional african music. Children played traffic light games and made traffic light cup cakes in our cooking session when we learnt about the inventor Garrett Morgan. We completed some fantastic art work in the style of Alma Thomas.

The children have had a fantastic first half term in Hedgehogs and it was lovely to see so many parents and carers at the parents evening this week. Children will return to class on Tuesday 3rd November where we will start a new topic of 'Toys'. Alongside this we will be covering our Enrichment offer which includes the festivals of Diwali and Christmas, anti bullying week, road safety week and Remembrance Day.

I hope that the children have a wonderful half term week!
